

Angelina's Sun in Gemini

Communication is very important in your relationships, and you can learn a great deal through your partners - that is, if you are willing to undergo a little self-examination. You don't like others to probe your deeper secrets and feel embarrassed at displays of emotion (yours or others).

It is important to you that your lover be your friend. Sex alone is not going to make you happy in a relationship, no matter how good it is. You have a light-hearted attitude toward sex and need a partner who shares your need for variety and stimulation. You have a knack for sexual experimentation and can become bored with a partner who is not of similar temperament.

Brad's Sun in Sagittarius

A high degree of personal involvement with your partner is necessary - casual affairs leave you cold. Sex is more than a physical release for you. You require intimacy and communication with your lover. Therefore, it is most important that your mate be intellectually and emotionally compatible with this need.

You want your relationship to extend beyond the bedroom and out into the world. It is important to you that you be able to work as well as play with your partner. Although you require a deep intimacy in order to be happy in a long-term relationship, your partner must also be able to grant you freedom to pursue your own goals in life as this is the balance you seek.

Angelina's Moon in Aries

You tend to live for the moment and make lightning-quick decisions in your love life. For this reason, you may rush into love affairs too quickly before you have had a chance to accurately assess the situation. You need a partner who is exciting and spontaneous. Otherwise, you may find that you often leave him or her behind when you dash off in pursuit of new adventures.

Be careful not to let the affair become so intense that it burns itself out quickly. Look before you leap into an intimate committed relationship. You need a partner who can help keep the feeling of newness and excitement alive in your relationship.

Brad's Moon in Capricorn

The best partner for you would be one who is stable, loyal and reliable - but not dull. You just need commitment and reassurance that the love you have is real and lasting, so your partner must be sincere, and they must believe in a high level of communication in the relationship.

You may marry for money or status or support your partner. But in any case, you need a solid, long-term relationship which improves as it ages. You would like to grow old with your partner, all the while being the best of friends.

Planets in Each Other's Houses

Brad's Sun in Angelina's 5th House

This is an excellent combination in any relationship. Whatever form your partnership takes, you'll enjoy recreation (games, sports, etc.) and entertainment (theatre, concerts, etc.) together. Brad inspires Angelina's creative expression and raises her spirits. In turn, she will be affectionate and appreciative. It's fun for you to be together, and you each find that the other brings you joy. Marriage partners who share this combination can co-operate well in raising children, and will both take an active role in their education.

Angelina's Sun in Brad's 7th House

This combination is common in close personal relationships, including marriage and business partnerships. You enjoy each other's company and both of you contribute equally to the harmony you share by being fair and willing to compromise. Each of you acts as a mirror, allowing you to see yourselves more clearly through the eyes of another. Angelina should avoid becoming overly critical of Brad's weaknesses and instead should help him to become stronger in problem areas. In a love relationship, this combination indicates a strong physical attraction.

EXPLANATION OF THE ASPECTS

These are very important in any compatibility report. It is where two or more planets "make connection" with each other via an aspect (such as a conjunction, sextile, square, trine, or opposition). All aspects are automatically listed on the following pages in order of strength. The higher the strength, the more relevant and potent the aspect.

Conjunction: A powerful and dynamic aspect which is where two or more planets are within 8 degrees of each other. They strongly flavour your relationship with the qualities of the planets involved. The best way to imagine it is both planets are people stuck in a lift together. Some people – or planets – are sympathetic or harmonious with each other, others are not.

Sextile: The distance between any planets involved in a "Sextile" is 60 degrees. This aspect promotes harmony and in any relationship is a "nice-to-have". It doesn't however mean you can ignore the obstacles provided by the square aspect nor can this aspect easily lessen the square aspects' impact on your relationship.

Square: There will be a 90-degree separation between any planets involved in a "Square". If you imagined the planets were children, those in a Square aspect would be endlessly squabbling siblings. More than any other planetary aspect, the square aspects are the ones to be looked at, considered and mastered daily in one's life to achieve fulfilment as a couple.

Trine: A distance of 120-degrees between any planet forms a "Trine". These planets will be in the same Element so she will blend well and flow. The Trine brings comfort, ease, and benefit to your relationship with little effort. It is these aspects that make your relationship pleasurable.

Opposition: As the name suggests, any planets that form an "opposition" will be smack, bang opposite each other at 180-degrees apart. In relationships, one of you will "act out" the qualities of one planet, while the other behaves in the manner of the opposing planet. It is the one type of aspect where you can predict or anticipate their behaviour and because of this, is easier than the square to address as the energy creates the old "opposites attract" situation. This is where you have the spendthrift dating Scrooge McDuck or the party animal in love with a party pooper. At the very least, it makes it fun for role-playing games.

You have major differences in your social or political views, and you hold different ideals for your life and for the planet as a whole. This aspect is not a major one and only magnifies other areas of discord between you. If your comparison is basically a positive one, this one will merely add minor irritation.

Angelina's Mars conjunct Brad's Jupiter (Strength: +313.5)

You have similar aspirations and ambitions and could accomplish a great deal together. You will each be helpful and supportive toward the other, and any association will result in your mutual benefit. The only danger is that your association could promote extravagance and wild speculation in you both. You encourage optimism, ambition and growth in each other and share a love of sports, nature and the outdoors. This aspect is often found between the charts of marriage or business partners.

Angelina's Mars trine Brad's Ascendant (Strength: +310.4)

You could combine your skills and efforts and work effectively together in business. If you live together, your home life is harmonious and you each respond instantly to the needs of the other. There is also a strong sexual attraction between you.

Angelina's Moon square Brad's Mercury (Strength: -215.8)

Angelina can be hypersensitive to Brad's viewpoints and feelings, who in turn may sometimes misinterpret her words or deeds. Communication and understanding is difficult, and you may get caught up in petty arguments. Brad may become irritated and impatient if Angelina cannot follow his line of thinking, and be critical of her, as well as unable to understand or respect Angelina's moods and emotions. Misunderstandings are common. Positive aspects between your Sun, Moon, Mercury or Venus can provide the co-operation you need to resolve differences.

Brad's Jupiter trine Angelina's Neptune (Strength: +210.0)

You share a spiritual and psychic tie, and there is mutual encouragement of idealism, intuitive development, spiritual or religious interests, and charitable instincts. You provide inspiration for mutual growth and expansion and will
